Buskro Welcomes Falcon Industrial Printing Solutions to Its Global Dealer Network

Pickering, ON, Canada – November 2026 -Buskro is pleased to announce its new dealer partnership with Michael Lefik and Falcon Industrial Printing Solutions, further expanding its global dealer network and strengthening its presence in the United States.

Based in Brunswick, Ohio, Falcon Industrial specializes in helping businesses identify printing solutions tailored to their specific applications. By understanding each customer's materials, production requirements and operational challenges, Falcon helps businesses select equipment that aligns with their workflow, budget and long-term goals.

With a background in sourcing, printing equipment applications and manufacturing workflows, Michael brings an application-focused approach to industrial printing. His emphasis on practical problem-solving and personal attention complements Buskro's commitment to developing flexible, reliable, and scalable printing technologies.

"Our partnership with Buskro strengthens our ability to deliver on that commitment," said Michael Lefik of Falcon Industrial Printing Solutions. "By combining Falcon's application-focused approach with Buskro's printing technology and expertise, we look forward to helping customers select solutions that meet their production needs and support future growth."

Through this partnership, customers will gain expanded access to Buskro's industrial digital inkjet printing solutions, supported by personalized guidance throughout the equipment selection process. By combining advanced printing technology with application-specific expertise, the partnership will help businesses improve print quality, increase throughput, expand production capabilities, and adapt to evolving market demands.

The addition of Falcon Industrial reflects Buskro's ongoing commitment to strengthening its global dealer network and building relationships with knowledgeable partners who understand the unique needs of their customers.

We are excited to welcome Michael and Falcon Industrial to the Buskro dealer network and look forward to a successful partnership built on shared expertise, innovation and customer success.
